A short summary

The Institute of Occidental Studies (IKON) and the Institute of Malay and World and Civilization (ATMA) of the University Kebangsaan Malaysia (UKM) teamed up to organize ICAS 5 for which the theme 'Sharing a Future in Asia' was picked. The Minister of Higher Education of Malaysia wrote in his welcome word: 'The hosting of ICAS 5 is very timely, held at a defining moment when we are embarking on a new path and transforming the country's higher education system to make Malaysia the regional center for educational excellence.' ICAS 5 also coincided with the celebrations of 50 years of independence which furthermore connected to the Visit Malaysia Year 2007.

For the first time ICAS took place in a Convention Centre, the Kuala Lumpur Convention Centre, which is located in the Kuala Lumpur City Centre (KLCC). From the centrally located exhibition hall one had a clear view on the famous Petronas Twin Towers. The nearly forty exhibitors at the ICAS book fair had no reason to complain both in terms of view and number of visitors. The book fair was a fixed feature of ICAS since the beginning, but in Kuala Lumpur it became mature. In cooperation with the city of Kuala Lumpur a circular bus line connecting places of cultural interest was launched which operates till this very day.

The organizer of ICAS 5, Prof. Shamsul A.B.: 'ICAS 5 is the place where researchers of all categories, from various fields, coming from all over the world, but all interested in Asia, convene, interact and build networks to share their research findings and personal experience.' He went on by dubbing ICAS 'The Olympics of Asian studies'. That is why the ICAS Secretariat saw it as imperative for ICAS to remain a travelling conference in Asia, drawing special attention to local dynamics of the country or region where the convention is held. Also for the first time the number of grouped panels (individual abstracts which are thematically put together on trans regional and transdisciplinary basis) was double the number of organized panels and roundtables. This combining of organized and grouped panels resulted not only in an ideal match of top down and bottom up contributions, but it also yielded an amalgamation of many different paradigmatic approaches which gives ICAS its signature vibe.

The second ICAS supplement to the IAS Newsletter, 'Academic Publishing Today' addressed the challenges and pitfalls of getting a book published. For the first time e-books were highlighted and a new IAS initiative 'New Books Asia' was launched, which has gradually grown into the 'first review' website in Asian studies.

THE FIFTH
INTERNATIONAL CONVENTION OF ASIA SCHOLARS

WELCOME MESSAGE FROM THE PRIME MINISTER OF MALAYSIA

Distinguished guests, ladies and gentlemen,

It gives me great pleasure to see such a large gathering of scholars on Asia at this Fifth International Convention of Asia Scholars (ICAS 5). As the patron of this important international academic event, I would like to extend my warmest welcome to all participants who have gathered here in Kuala Lumpur for this occasion. To the Institute of Occidental Studies (IKON) and the Institute of Malay World and Civilization (ATMA) at the Universiti Kebangsaan Malaysia, as well as the International Institute for Asian Studies (IIAS) at Leiden, the Netherlands, my heartfelt congratulations and thanks for their joint effort to make this convention possible.

I find the theme for this convention - "Sharing a future in Asia" - to be most appropriate for us in Malaysia. Our ambition has always been to be a successful multi-ethnic nation and society. Equally important, we want to share where possible, our own trials and tribulations in carrying out the challenging task of nation-building. We embarked on this ambitious journey 50 years ago, when we became independent, through a conscious effort of continuous negotiations and consensus to find the best possible way of accommodating each community's hopes and aspirations. In doing so, we have transformed rhetoric into actions, hope into reality, and made sharing as the basis for our common destiny.

You are here now in Malaysia to witness first hand what we have achieved thus far. This year marks the 50th anniversary of our independence, and it coincides with the Visit Malaysia Year 2007. Behind the glory and the splendors of the festivities in the stark reality of hard work, sacrifice and dedication of both the leaders and the people of Malaysia.

I am certain over the next few days at ICAS 5 KL, you are going to share new findings and new ideas, make new friends and re-establish old relationships. I hope you will use this opportunity to refine your conceptual and analytical tools in order to enhance your understanding of Asia. After all, Asia is arguably the fastest growing region in the world, and the future holds much promise for us.

Finally, may you have a fruitful discussion and an enjoyable stay in Malaysia.

Y.A.B. Datuk Seri Abdullah Ahmad Badawi
Prime Minister of Malaysia

WELCOME MESSAGE FROM THE MINISTER OF HIGHER EDUCATION MALAYSIA

Firstly, I would like to thank the Institute of Occidental Studies (IKON) and the Institute of Malay World and Civilization (ATMA), Universiti Kebangsaan Malaysia (UKM) for inviting me to write this foreword in conjunction with the hosting the 5th International Convention of Asia Scholars (ICAS5) in collaboration with the International Institute for Asian Studies (IIAS), Leiden, the Netherlands. I wish to congratulate the Organising Committee for their initiative and joint effort in making this important event a reality.

This hosting of ICAS5 is very timely, held at this defining moment when the Ministry of Higher Education is embarking on a new path and transforming the country's higher education system to make Malaysia the regional centre for educational excellence. We are stressing on quality and the importance of being competitive in the course of developing our human capital, the main agenda of our National Mission, and strengthening the role of our universities.

In 2006, we establish a research university entity within our public funded university system. Four universities, including UKM, have been selected to form the cluster of our research universities. I am happy that IIAS has entrusted UKM to organize this high profile and important international academic event. This speaks volume of UKM's international standing and its future as a full-fledge research university.

Lastly, I would like to once again thank the organizers. To all participants, I wish you all a most fruitful and productive convention. And to our foreign guests, I encourage you to take the opportunity to travel, enjoy and learn more about this country during this Malaysia Visit Year.

Regards,

Y.B. Dato' Mustapa Mohamed
Minister of Higher Education

WELCOME MESSAGE FROM THE VICE CHANCELLOR OF UNIVERSITI KEBANGSAAN MALAYSIA

Distinguished guests, ladies and gentlemen,

Selamat Datang, Welcome to Malaysia

Organizing a significant academic event like the International Convention of Asia Scholars (ICAS), being held this time in Kuala Lumpur (ICAS5 KL), takes a lot of effort, time, energy and dedication from all those involved. Congratulations and a huge thank you to the organizing team from Universiti Kebangsaan Malaysia (UKM), namely, from our Institute of Occidental Studies (IKON) and the Institute of the Malay World & Civilization (ATMA) as well as the co-organiser, the International Institute of Asian Studies, Leiden, The Netherlands.

UKM is indeed honoured to be given the task of organizing ICAS5 KL, dubbed by many as the 'Olympics of Asian studies'. It provides a golden opportunity for us to showcase Malaysian scholarship in the field of Asian studies and to consolidate our reputation as a research university with international standing.

I note that quite a number of Panels in the convention will be discussing themes and topics, directly and indirectly, related to the field of ethnic and minority studies or on the general issue of identity politics. In UKM we are developing the field of ethnic and minority studies as a research niche. It is an area which Malaysia has a lot to offer.

I believe ICAS5 KL, with more than 1,500 participants grouped into some 350 panels, represents the largest ever ICAS thus far. UKM is happy to be part of it. On behalf of UKM, I wish every participant a fruitful convention and an enjoyable stay in Malaysia.

Yours sincerely,

Prof. Dato' Dr. Sharifah Hapsah Syed Hasan Shahabudin
Vice Chancellor
Universiti Kebangsaan Malaysia

WELCOME MESSAGE FROM THE ICAS HOST

Dear colleagues and friends

The tradition in the academia is that after a protracted and challenging research every researcher is very eager to share not only the research findings she/he had gathered but also the personal experience that she/he had gone through, both of which are so valuable to the future make-up of a budding scholar, to job prospects for those who already have certificates in hand, to possible job promotion for those who have performed and to accumulate more accolades for the established ones.

An international convention such as the Fifth International Convention of Asia Scholars, Kuala Lumpur (ICAS 5 KL) is the place where researchers of all categories, from various fields, coming from all over the world, but all interested in anything Asia, convene, interact and build networks to share their research findings and personal experience.

To the new entrants ICAS 5 promises many exciting encounters and explorations, especially, for those who have never visited Kuala Lumpur. To them, to be at ICAS 5 KL is like embarking on a new research and personal experience, especially, in 2007, when we celebrate the 50th anniversary of our Independence all year long through our Visit Malaysia Year 2007 programs. We, at the Universiti Kebangsaan Malaysia (UKM), welcome them all and wish them well.

To the rest, welcome back and enjoy the convention and also Kuala Lumpur and Malaysia, embracing all its beauty and imperfections, which some grudgingly admire and others accept it as it is.

As the Chair of the Organizing Committee, ICAS 5 KL, I wish to convey my thanks to all parties, both in and outside Malaysia, which have made such generously contributions towards making this significant international event in Malaysia a success.

Shamsul A.B.
Director,
Institute of Occidental Studies (IKON)

WELCOME MESSAGE FROM THE ICAS SECRETARIAT

Welcome to the fifth International Convention of Asia Scholars – ICAS 5! Also on behalf of the host, the Universiti Kebangsaan Malaysia (UKM) and its two organizing institutions, the Institute of Occidental Studies (IKON) and the Institute of the Malay World and Civilisation (ATMA) we wish you a pleasant and fruitful stay in Kuala Lumpur, and more particularly at the venue of ICAS 5, the brand new KL convention center situated directly at the feet of the Petronas Towers in the heart of Malaysia's capital.

In the ten years of its existence ICAS will have brought more than 5000 academics together at five conventions where approximately 4000 papers will have been presented in little over a thousand panels. Behind these numbers lies a world of multiple interactions across borders and disciplines, sometimes resulting in new long term international co-operative research links. At present, in its 5th edition, ICAS has become one of the largest gatherings of Asia scholars in Asia.

The first convention in Leiden in 1998 was first and foremost conceived as a transatlantic event: a meeting place for European and American Asia specialists. However, once the convention was announced, enthusiastic reactions poured in, not only from the Atlantic world but also from Asia!

Nearly one thousand participants from 40 countries attended ICAS 1. More than 350 universities, institutes and organizations were represented. ICAS 2 was hosted in Germany's new capital –Berlin, and hosted by the Freie Universität in 2001. Here 800 participants from 35 countries contributed to the success of the meeting. In Berlin it was decided that the next editions of ICAS had to take place in Asia and with the slogan "The future of Asia Studies lies in Asia!" ICAS 3 moved to Singapore in 2003. The National University of Singapore (NUS) hosted more than 1100 participants distributed over 250 panels and stemming from 54 countries. The attendance of ICAS 4 in Shanghai (2005) appeared to be even higher than that of Singapore: 1200 participants, reading 1020 papers in 270 panels. The Shanghai Academy of Social Sciences acted as a host. For the first time the ICAS Book Prizes were awarded for the best studies on Asia in the field of the humanities and social sciences and for the best PhD. Now in its second edition prizes will be awarded in the categories mentioned above but a new category has been added: the Colleagues Choice Award.

Now in 2007, we are very proud to present you with the programme of ICAS 5. Our Malaysian host wishes to add to this convention the Leitmotif "Sharing a Future in Asia", a significant theme, which underlines the need for an increasing integration of Asia Studies. ICAS 5 offers more than 325 sessions with 1600 active participants from 40 countries. In total 125 panels have been submitted of which 85 organized and 40 institutional panels have been selected. Furthermore, 225 grouped panels have been formed on the basis of individual submissions. This combining of organized and grouped panels resulted not only in an ideal match of top down and bottom up contributions, but it also has yielded an amalgamation of many different paradigmatic approaches. Needless to say – this typifies the multidisciplinary and border transcending character of ICAS.

We are deeply grateful to our host, the Universiti Kebangsaan Malaysia and in particular to Prof. Dr Shamsul and his wonderful team, for all the endeavors they made to turn ICAS 5 into a success.

We wish you all an inspiring convention in Kuala Lumpur and hope that many new research initiatives and co-operative links will flourish from ICAS 5!

Prof. Wim A.L. Stokhof
Secretary General ICAS

ABOUT ICAS 5

Asia is often proclaimed as the fastest growing region in the world today. This is in spite of the fact that nearly a billion of its population is still living in poverty. It is Asia's resilience in the face of extreme adversities and its ability to rise above and overcome the challenge of dividedness and differences that has enhanced the global perception that it is a region of hope and prosperity for everyone, both from inside and outside Asia, to participate and share. Thus ICAS 5 Kuala Lumpur provides a timely opportunity to examine and elaborate critically this possibility.

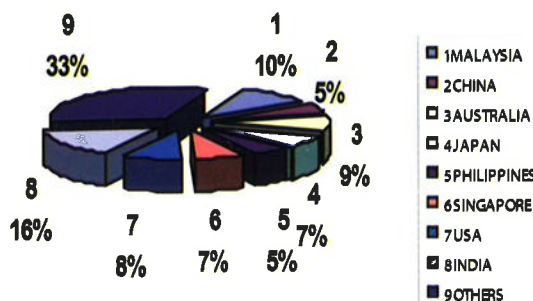

The International Convention of Asia Scholars (ICAS) is listed among the largest gatherings of research scholars from Centres on Asia and Asians studies, especially in the humanities and social science fields. Recent developments in Asian studies indicate an emerging trend in cross-disciplinary and inter-regional approach in Asian studies. This positive development among the scholars of Asian studies will be further enhanced through a dynamic and interactive platform at ICAS 5 in Kuala Lumpur.

The first ICAS was held in Leiden in 1998. The subsequent conferences were held in Berlin (ICAS 2, 2001), Singapore (ICAS 3, 2003) and Shanghai (ICAS 4, 2005). ICAS 5 seeks to continue the ICAS tradition and has selected "Sharing a Future in Asia" as its theme. Expecting the participation of over 2,000 delegates representing 60 countries, ICAS 5 will be held from 2 to 5 August 2007 in the heart of Asia, the Kuala Lumpur Convention Centre, Malaysia. Jointly hosted and organised by the Institute of Occidental Studies (IKON) and the Institute of the Malay World and Civilization (ATMA), Universiti Kebangsaan Malaysia and the ICAS Secretariat (International Institute for Asian Studies (IIAS), the Netherlands).

ABOUT UKM, IKON, ATMA & ICAS SECRETARIAT

	Universiti Kebangsaan Malaysia (UKM), established in 18 May 1970, is the third university in Malaysia, but first to use Bahasa Melayu, as the medium of instruction. UKM uses the national language for most classes, but also helps students to enhance their proficiency in English, French, German, Arabic, Mandarin, Japanese, Korean, Spanish, Thai and others. UKM is intensifying its efforts in research, internationalization and quality assurance, towards development as a full research university. Ranked in the World's Top 100 Science Universities (Times Higher Education Supplement, 2005), the main theme of UKM's new image is "The National University with an international Reach". Website: www.ukm.my
	Institute of Occidental Studies, or IKON was established in October 2003 as a full-fledge research institute for the study of Western Civilization and its complex variations in the Occidental region. This includes the study of Europeans and the regions they have settled over the last one thousand years: including North and South America, Australasia, the Russian region, the Nordic countries and the Mediterranean. Visit: www.ikon.ukm.my
	Institute of the Malay World and Civilization, or ATMA was established in 1972 as a center of excellence at UKM, and is the first research center for Malay Studies in Malaysia. ATMA's vision is to become a world class center in the study of the Malay world and civilization situated in the riverine maritime complex of Southeast Asia. The mission is to build and strengthen knowledge about the Malay world and civilization in line with the mission of UKM. Visit www.atma.ukm.my and www.malaycivilization.com
	The ICAS Secretariat was founded in 2001 to safeguard the continuity of the ICAS process. The ICAS Secretariat is hosted by the International Institute for Asian Studies (IIAS, Leiden/ Amsterdam), the Netherlands. Its main tasks are: co-hosting ICAS events, assessing new ideas concerning ICAS, supporting the reading committees of the ICAS Book Prizes, keeping an up-to-date database of participants, Asian Studies institutions and advertisers.

Editor-in-Chief

KENNETH M. GEORGE

University of Wisconsin-Madison, USA

Published for the Association for Asian Studies, Inc.

The Journal of Asian Studies (JAS) has played a defining role in the field of Asian studies for nearly 70 years. JAS publishes the very best empirical and multidisciplinary work on Asia, spanning the arts, history, literature, the social sciences, and cultural studies. Experts around the world turn to this quarterly journal for the latest in-depth scholarship on Asia's past and present, for its extensive book reviews, and for its state-of-the-field essays on established and emerging topics. With coverage reaching from South and Southeast Asia to China, Inner Asia, and Northeast Asia, JAS welcomes broad comparative and transnational studies as well as essays emanating from fine-grained historical, cultural, political, and literary research. The journal also publishes clusters of papers that present new and vibrant discussions on specific themes and issues.

Equinox Publishing, based in Jakarta, is the leading publisher for English-language books about Indonesia. Founded on the autumnal equinox in 1999, we publish nonfiction, fiction, luxury illustrated, and specially commissioned works. We are proud to introduce our Classic Indonesia series, which utilizes the latest printing technologies to bring back to life out-of-print works by the world's leading scholars on Indonesia. Starting August 2007, all the titles in this series are printed on 100% post-consumer waste recycled paper to support our ongoing efforts to reduce the rate of deforestation in Indonesia.

Perdana Leadership Foundation was set up in 2003 to preserve, develop and disseminate policies and strategies of Malaysia's past Prime Ministers, from Tunku Abdul Rahman to Tun Dr. Mahathir Mohamad. We aim to highlight their contributions in the social, economic and political development of the nation; to create awareness of the development process to enhance future development; become the premier resource centre for the policies, strategies and initiatives adopted under each Prime Minister and to promote global understanding by providing a channel for scholars and thinkers to undertake research and idea-sharing for lasting, peaceful resolutions.

Editor-in-Chief

KENNETH M. GEORGE

University of Wisconsin-Madison, USA

Published for the Association for Asian Studies, Inc.

The Journal of Asian Studies (JAS) has played a defining role in the field of Asian studies for nearly 70 years. JAS publishes the very best empirical and multidisciplinary work on Asia, spanning the arts, history, literature, the social sciences, and cultural studies. Experts around the world turn to this quarterly journal for the latest in-depth scholarship on Asia's past and present, for its extensive book reviews, and for its state-of-the-field essays on established and emerging topics. With coverage reaching from South and Southeast Asia to China, Inner Asia, and Northeast Asia, JAS welcomes broad comparative and transnational studies as well as essays emanating from fine-grained historical, cultural, political, and literary research. The journal also publishes clusters of papers that present new and vibrant discussions on specific themes and issues.

Message from the ICAS Secretariat

In ten years of existence the International Convention of Asia Scholars (ICAS) has brought more than 5,000 academics from 60 countries together at five conventions where four thousand papers were presented during more than a thousand panels. Behind these figures lies a world of multiple interactions across borders and disciplines which has resulted in new long term international research partnerships. ICAS is established as one of the largest gatherings of Asia scholars in the world. Do you want to become a Friend of ICAS, participate in ICAS, submit a book for the ICAS Book Prize or publish your paper presented at ICAS in the ICAS Publications Series, please contact us.
